

Data Center Technician

We are seeking a self-motivated team player who is excited by the challenge of a fast pace, ever changing working environment. The successful candidate will:

- Own, drive and contribute to technical innovation, automation and projects within the Data Center operations space.
- Create systems and process that enhance operational workflow and provide positive customer impact within the Data Centers.

In terms of basic qualification, the candidates need not be experts in all of the below but at a minimum must be able to answer YES to all of the following 3 questions:

Q. Do you have basic Linux/Unix skills?

Q. Do you have basic server hardware knowledge?

Q. Do you have basic networking knowledge?

The ideal candidate would have basic experience with the operating systems & server hardware competencies and show the willingness and aptitude to quickly become skilled in the other competencies. All interested candidates must be willing to take shift work including weekend and holiday.

Detailed Technical Requirements/Competencies:

Server Hardware

- Basic knowledge of server hardware maintenance/troubleshooting across multiple server vendors.
- Understanding and experience of managing disk sub-systems.
- The position has a physical component requiring the ability to Server and networking equipment installation and removal.
- Manage all aspect of a Mission critical spare parts pool for server and network equipment.

Systems

- In depth knowledge & experience of Linux.
- Experience deploying or managing Linux environments.
- Apache, MySQL, Oracle, DNS, DHCP, LDAP management, Systems and applications troubleshooting skills.
- Some knowledge of scripting/programming with Perl and Python.

Networking

- Experience with Cisco equipment in an enterprise environment.
- Some knowledge of Cisco IOS.
- Some knowledge about network troubleshooting.

Application Method & Deadline:

- Interested candidates please send updated CV directly to yajimeng@amazon.com as soon as possible.