Job Description

Want to use your skills to help the Elderly live a quality life at home?

Who Are We?
There are jobs, and then there are careers. The opportunity to do something meaningful for the people that we care about the most. At Evercare, we come to work every day to help our aging parents live safely at home. Led by a team of executives from Gogovan, Lalamove, Li & Fung and Klook, we use technology to deliver a better and safer home care experience. Since our launch in 2016, we have provided 100,000+ hours of home care, changing the lives of thousands of families. As recognition, Evercare was awarded Finalist for the Best Home Care Operator in Asia Pacific, and accepted into Cyberport’s Incubation Programme. Evercare’s journey has only just begun. Come join us on our mission. Let’s make an impact together.

What You'll Do?
We’re looking for young and energetic interns who can help with:
- scheduling and coordinating for an exciting project related to COVID-19
- handle inbound customers and caregivers’ questions and concerns, delighting them with patience, compassion and clear communication.
- being an Evercare ambassador at the forefront of a hot healthcare startup
You’ll Be A Good Fit If You:
- Are curious to learn more about working at a startup and what it means to be in a high growth environment
- Have a start up attitude, willing to learn and try, accept failure, and do better next time
- Are proficient in Cantonese and English
- Want to boost your CV for your future employment

Why join us?
- Work with a young, international and energetic team with a lean startup structure.
- Rising healthcare startup in Hong Kong with solid traction to scale geographically
- Experience exponential growth within health-tech, the hottest sector in 2020 and booming even with COVID-19.
- Strong team of executives from GOGOVAN, Lalamove, Honestbee, and more.
- Receive dedicated mentorship to guide you along your startup journey and plan your career development.
- Be proud of the impact that you are contributing to every single day. Lives will be better because of you!

How to apply?
Interested candidates may write to our colleague Ken at ken@yourevercare.com, preferably on or before Jan 15, 2021.
